Must See Spots in Shimane Prefecture's Iwami Region!

The Little Kyoto of San'in Tsuwano

A castle town with 700 years of history, Tsuwano is a small gem located in the mountains, and is rich with historical sites and beautiful nature. Take a stroll up to the castle ruins sitting on a mountain top, enjoy delicious sweets, and experience the history and culture found within Tsuwano.

A Hot Spring Paradise

Iwami is famous for its large variety of hot springs that are historically known for holding healing properties and providing beautifying effects to the skin, giving it the name "Bijin no Yu". Each hot spring has its own unique water texture and qualities that are offered, so please take the chance to experience it for yourself!

Iwami's Gourmet Japanese Sake

Located along the coast of the Sea of Japan, the Iwami Region is abundant with local specialties such as freshly caught seafood, locally raised Wagyu beef and many other famous products. Shimane Prefecture is also known as the origin of Japanese sake, and there are many breweries that produce delicious, high quality sake in the Iwami Region! The local sake is a must-have when visiting this area!

UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site Iwami Ginzan Silver Mine

The currently inhabited old mining town of Omori-cho and its historic townscape lead the way to Ryugenji Mabu Mine Shaft and the remains of other tunnels that were once used for mining silver. Walking around this World Heritage Site feels like you've gotten in a time machine and traveled back to the Edo Period.

Japan Heritage Iwami Kagura

A traditional performing art that was recognized as a Japan Heritage, Iwami Kagura features the lively music of Taiko drums, the melancholy sounds of flutes, and gorgeous costumes worn by the performers. The local troupes are often invited to perform at various events in both Japan and overseas.

Iwami Kagura is performed every weekend in various places, and a pamphlet introducing the program is also available at the venue, so even beginners can enjoy Kagura. Check the website for more information.
